Professional Background:

Vladimír Vyklický was born in 1965 in Brno. He graduated from the Antonín Zápotocký Military Academy (now University of Defence) in Brno (specialisation in military meteorology) in 1988. He worked as a meteorologist and subsequently as an air traffic controller at the military airports in Bechyně and Náměšť nad Oslavou from 1988 to 2000. From 2000 he worked as a coordinator of cooperation with NATO and subsequently as a planner at the Air Force HQ in Stará Boleslav. Since 2002, as a senior officer, he was responsible for coordinating air defence at the General Staff. He represented the Czech Republic in air defence at the NATO headquarters in Brussels from 2005 to 2008. From 2008 to 2020, with a break from 2015 to 2018, he was responsible for developing air traffic control, the Electronic Warfare Corps and the Air Force Command and Control System. From 2015 to 2018, he worked as a senior officer in the international military staff at the NATO headquarters in Brussels. He was responsible for cooperating with the European Union, the United Nations, the OSCE, the African Union and other governmental and non-governmental organisations. Since January 2020, he has been working at the Centre for Security and Military Strategic Studies at the University of Defence. He is a lecturer at the University of Defence.
